

Our strategy: QVH 2020

Delivering excellence remains our core approach, with five key strategic objectives shaping our work.

In addition, the Boards of Brighton and Sussex University Hospitals Trust (BSUH), Queen Victoria Hospital Foundation Trust (QVH) and Western Sussex Hospitals Foundation Trust are seeking to build on current partnership working to further align both clinical and support services.

QVH and BSUH already work in partnership on a range of clinical activity including burns, plastics and head and neck services. The three trusts have set up a programme board to make recommendations for further collaboration. This work is part of wider discussions including at the East Surrey and Sussex STP, seeking to address issues of clinical and financial sustainability.

In autumn 2018 we began work to engage stakeholders in the development of our estates strategy; which includes our vision for using our estate to develop our role as one of the best surgical hospitals in the country.
